

MINES SCHOOL WILL BE MOVED

New Site to Be Secured and the Junior College Course Added.

A new location will be secured for the Texas School of Mines, closer to El Paso, where fire protection will be available and where the students will be in closer touch with the city.

The present site of the school of mines will be sold to the United States government for the enlargement of the Fort Bliss military reservation, if plans now under way are carried out.

The new school will be located close to Mount Franklin, as it is the plan of those directing the school to operate a practice mine in connection with the school and this will be located in Mount Franklin.

When the location of the school is changed and the new buildings are completed, the school will establish a course in junior college work in addition to its instruction in mining engineering. This course will occupy two years for students and will send them to the universities with that much preparation.

The building destroyed by fire last Sunday on the school of mines campus was insured for $15,000. It was worth about $15,000 to say nothing of the contents. The state will lose the difference between the value of the building and the amount of insurance carried.

The safe cracked in the heat of the fire and all the records of the school were destroyed.

The school will continue this year in its present location. Repairs and alterations will be made to the dormitory to make room for the classes and a temporary "chuck" will be erected on the campus for the physical laboratory and necessary other "chucks" will be erected to accommodate any needs of the school.

Propositions for sites for the school will be received by the management, their selection being subject to the sale of the present property. These decisions and details were brought out today after a conference between Dean S. H. Worrell and President H. E. Vinson, of the Texas State University, who arrived from Austin to go over the situation with Dean Worrell. Today Mr. Worrell and Mr. Vinson will go over the site with Brig. Gen. George Bell, Jr. who will report to Washington on the value of the site for further addition to the military reservation. The military officials have previously stated that the site is needed. The price of the property must be agreed upon between Dean Worrell, President Vinson and Brig. Gen. Bell and approval must then be secured from Gen. Funston and the secretary of war. Congress will then have to pass a bill to buy the property. The legislature of Texas will then have to pass a special measure for the sale of the property. The school will occupy the rest of the school year at least. Meantime, if the sale seems certain, it may be possible to select another site and begin the erection of a new school.

HAVE YOU A FRIEND WITH SKIN TROUBLE?

If you have a friend suffering with eczema or some such skin eruption, what greater kindness could you do him than to say:

"Why don't you try Resinol Ointment? I know you have experimented with a dozen treatments, but I believe Resinol is different. In the first place, doctors have prescribed it for years and then Resinol does not claim to be a 'cure-all'—simply a soothing, skin dressing, free from all harsh drugs, that 'EASILY' proves successful in just such cases as yours."

Resinol Ointment is sold by all druggists. For free sample, write to Dept. 33-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.—Adv.

USE ORRINE DRINK HABIT GOES

Orrine is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment; Orrine No. 2, the voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Ask us for booklet—Kelly & Pollard, Sheldon Hotel—Adv.

CALOREL SELDOM SOLD HERE NOW

Nasty drug salivates, makes you sick and you lose a day's work.

Every druggist in town—your druggist and everybody's druggist has noticed a great falling off in the sale of Calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tonic is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it, while Dodson's Liver Tonic is perfectly safe and gives better results," said a prominent local druggist. Dodson's Liver Tonic is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle costs 50 cents and if it fails to give you relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, you have only to ask for your money back. Dodson's Liver Tonic is a pleasant tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of Calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work! Take Dodson's Liver Tonic instead and feel fine, full of vigor and ambition.—Advertisement.

ADCOMES EAST FOR TABERNACLE

Officers Join With the Men In Enthusiastically Contributing.

Col. Alfred Hasbrouck and the officers of the 29th Infantry brought cheer to the committee and added new life to the tabernacle fund by their generous subscriptions today. No personal solicitation was undertaken, only a notice being posted that officers might indicate to Mrs. A. Owen Seaman or chaplain John T. Axton the amounts they desired to give, and in sums of from $5 to $25 the general fund grew until it reached nearly $2500 and this without any announcement as to what the men of the 29th are doing.

Capt. E. J. Horman, who is in command of the two companies of the 29th, and on duty at the courthouse, has asked, on behalf of his men, that the results of the canvass of the regiment shall not be published until he or his assistants return to camp at Fort Bliss in order that they may enjoy the enthusiasm of the windup. From personal interviews with the officers of the regiment, it is evident that at least 80 percent of the enlisted men are subscribing. While two organizations have already come through clean with $1 for each man on duty, this high percentage is not to be expected of all, as many men are on detached service, confinement and others have dependent relatives to whom they allot most of their pay.

Artillery Colonel Aids.
Col. Charles T. Mencher, of the Fifth field artillery, sent for Chaplain Axton yesterday and discussed the work that has been conducted in camp for the past three years and expressed pleasure in finding that for some time the command of his regiment, the command of which he has but recently assumed, has been contributing generously to the cause of the tabernacle. There was still more cheer in the committee room when the chaplain enthusiastically in favor of the scheme and would encourage his officers and men to join in the service. While the plan for the tabernacle is large enough to be all inclusive and everybody in the neighborhood will be heartily welcomed to its privileges, there is a growing sentiment that some advantage should accrue to the men who contribute to the fund, the non-commissioned officers' committee has suggested that a big, comfortable section of choice seats be reserved until the opening of the new tabernacle for those who have given and that cards entitling holders to this privilege be issued. This would overcome the long wait in the morning and come an hour before church time in order to be assured of a good seat. Col. Hasbrouck has approved the idea.

Saturday and Sunday nights are to be big nights in the completion of the canvass. On Saturday night the regiment will attract a larger number of men than usual and provide an exceptional program, the Winkie Kiddies have again been secured to entertain. Little Gig-trade, who has been quite ill and could not appear last Monday, is now better. On Sunday night, if companies it and I get back to camp in time, the result will be made at the big service at which chaplain Axton will preach and Miss Anna Axton will sing.

SEVENTH DIVISION TAKES THE FIELD ON TWO DAYS MANEUVER
Troops in the Seventh provisional army corps, under command of Maj. Gen. Chas. M. Clement, left camp for a two-day maneuver. The exact program has not yet been published. It is known, however, that exercises in attack and defense will be followed out and that all of the auxiliary troops will be called upon to perform their various functions as though in actual warfare. But one regiment of field artillery will participate—the first Pennsylvania.

The reorganization of the other two artillery units, recently transferred from Infantry, has not sufficiently progressed to warrant their being sent into the field as active units at this time.

JAP MILITARY ATTACHE A GUEST IN EL PASO
Col. M. Itima, military attaché of the Japanese embassy at Washington, D. C., was a guest in El Paso Thursday, while en route to San Francisco, to take a steamship for his native country. Col. Itima, during his stay in the city, was entertained by Brig. Gen. George Bell, commanding the El Paso district of the border patrol. He was accompanied by his wife. Col. Itima has been Japanese military attaché in this country for the past three years, and is returning to his home for the first time, since arriving in America.

PENN. ELECTION BOARD IS ON ITS WAY TO EL PASO
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 2.—The Pennsylvania election commissioners who will take the vote of the Pennsylvania militia at the Mexican border, are today on their way to El Paso, occupying a special car. The commissioners received ballots and instructions here a week ago and called upon Gov. Gurnea before departing Wednesday night.

RECKLESS AUTO DRIVER KILLS FINE DOG OF J. M. LEWIS

A reckless, sloppy automobile driver killed a fine dog of J. M. Lewis, of Grant avenue, Wednesday evening just after dusk. Mr. Lewis, who is manager of the Goodrich tire store, was sitting on his front porch and the dog started to cross the street when a car and girl—spurred Mr. Lewis says they were—dashed up the street in a car. The machine ran over the dog and killed him instantly. The speeders did not stop, they sped on and have been too much engrossed in each other to see the dog before they hit the animal, and after hitting him they made no effort to stop. A child would have been the victim as easily as the dog, judging from the apparent reckless disregard for others which the automobile exhibited. Mr. Lewis bought the dog in Philadelphia and "Chap" was well known among Mr. Lewis's friends.

IS ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF SPEEDING; MAKES ESCAPE

Following his arrest on a charge of speeding, on Oregon street, an unidentified negro escaped from the police station Wednesday night and ran down a dark alley. He was pursued by motorcycle officer Scheerer, who fired several shots in the air in an effort to apprehend the fugitive. The automobile driven by the negro was held as security by the officers, however, until Ernest Wilson appeared and put up a $25 bond for the appearance of the driver this afternoon in corporation court.

RUG STOLEN FROM HOME WHILE RESIDENTS ARE OUT

Thieves entered the home of W. Nichols, 211 Nevada street, early Thursday morning and stole a rug valued at $5 from the hall. The burglary occurred during the absence of the residents.

Efforts are being made by the Krausers, Zork and Moye's successors to locate a large coil of iron wire that was lost from a delivery truck of the company in the northern part of the city Wednesday afternoon. The police have been asked to assist in the search, as it is believed that the wire was picked up by some one.

RAPS SYSTEM OF ROADS IN TEXAS

One of Only Two States Not Ready for Federal Aid, Says E. J. Horman.

"The Road to Nowhere" is the typical Texas road, according to E. J. Horman, of Washington, D. C., assistant director general of the National Highway association, who addressed the Rotary club at its weekly luncheon in the Sheldon grill Thursday.

"Only two of the 48 states in the union are not in a position to cooperate with the federal government for the purpose of getting good roads—and Texas is one of them," declared Mr. Horman. "A uniform, standard, statewide, even nationwide system is needed in order to prevent waste and inefficiency. Roads are not a local problem, but a state and national issue."

Mr. Horman dwelt particularly on the air line from Fort Worth to El Paso, in the interest of which he is touring this section.

Fort Worth Active.
"The southern highway will go through El Paso, provided the business people of El Paso do their share in securing the cooperation of the people with the state organization," he said. "Fort Worth has done her share. A country highway league has been established there. Some definite representation on the state highway body is necessary."

Mr. Horman pointed to the example of other states to prove what cooperation in road building has accomplished. Roads are not a local problem, but a state and national issue.

Laundry Day.

"Long live your linen!" This was the slogan of the day at the club Thursday, which was designated "Laundry day." F. Fletcher, of the company, gave an interesting talk, illustrated by charts, explaining the methods and standards of the concern.

On the walls were banners bearing the slogan line mentioned, and there were also several neatly printed placards containing trenchant business maxims, such as:

"Long live your linen!" "Courteous costs nothing, and yet it pays better dividends than any other business virtue it has."

"The best manifestation of mental decay is indifference to clean clothes."

"The latest gospel in this world is to know thy work and do it."

"There are three parties to every big business—the owners, the employees, the public."

The meeting was in charge of Mr. Fletcher, and the music was furnished by an orchestra procured by the laundry. H. E. Van Suidam sang several selections.

Mr. Fletcher explained the methods of his laundry by means of a series of charts.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid which flows in the blood, affecting the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive processes, and remains there because the liver, kidneys and skin are too torpid to carry it off.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood, and through the blood on the liver, kidneys and skin, which it stimulates, and at the same time it improves the digestion.

University of Texas, who is in the city in order to make arrangements for the continuation of the Texas School of Mines, despite the recent fire, made a brief but pointed address.

There are some things that fire cannot burn," he said. "El Paso need not fear that the school of mines will be discontinued just because we have had a fire here. Even the water thrown on the school by the soldiers cannot quench our enthusiasm."

"We hope to build the school of mines so that outwardly it will show you all that we know it contains on the inside. The School of Mines will be continued and it will be continued in El Paso."

Georgia Rotarian Heard.

Lieut. Clarence Levy, a Rotarian of Augusta, Ga., and a member of the First Georgia Infantry, began by saying that he had had silence imposed on him for so many months that he feared he hardly knew how to express himself. He then proved that his fears were groundless by telling some good jokes and even "speaking in parables." His remarks of the old man and the traveler were particularly fortunate.

A traveler met an old man and asked him how far it was to the nearest city, said Lieut. Levy. The old man replied that it was two miles. The traveler then inquired what sort of a town it was. The aged one countered by asking the traveler what sort of a town he had come from.

"The rottenest town you ever heard of," was the answer.

"Then the town that you are going to is a bad town."

Another traveler met the same old man and asked the same questions. But to the query as to what sort of town he had come from, he replied that he had come from the best town on earth, and had been sorry to leave it.

"Then the town you are going to will be the best town on earth," said the old man.

"Well, gentlemen," declared Lieut. Levy in conclusion, "I came from a damned fine town, and I came to a damned fine town." The Rotarians cheered.

Another Army Visitor.
Another army visitor was Lieut. O. P. Henning, surgeon of the 11th United States cavalry.

M. P. Carlock expressed his regret that his change from the White House to the Popular Dry Goods company automatically severed his connection with the Rotary club, and added that Jake Miller would take his place as active representative from the White House.

R. S. Gray was awarded the weekly prize, and Jake Miller was declared the guest.

E. G. Perry, of the Lone Star Motor company, will have charge of the meeting next week.

Capt. William Simpson assumed charge Wednesday morning of the day shift of the police station, succeeding Capt. Lee L. Hill, who had been transferred to night duty by police chief R. Zabriskie.
